Goodship Research, Ipswich, Massachusetts

Key:

National Register Historic District: Districts of historic properties on the National Register of Historic Places, a federal program recognizing historic significance of cultural resources. Ipswich has six districts as of this writing: EE = East End, MG = Meeting House Green, HS = High Street, SG = South Green, BM = Brown's Mill, IM = Ipswich Mills. If no district is specified, individual buildings are included in the Town's or State's inventory of historic places, but do not fall within the boundaries of any of the National Register Districts.

MHC #'s: Massachusetts Historical Commission Inventory Numbers. Properties are assigned these numbers by the state when they have been thoroughly researched, and their significance to state and /or local history has been determined by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. A property may have an MHC number but not fall within a National Register District. Some properties fall in both categories.

Priority: High = H : The building is of First, Second or Third Period and requires a full Historical Commission review.

Medium = M : The building dates between 1825- and the 75-year benchmark for demolition (1930 as of this writing), and requires a site visit by a Historical Commission member before a demolition permit may be granted.

Low = L : The building dates to after the 75 year benchmark, (post 1930 as of this writing), and a demolition permit may be issued automatically.

P.A.: Preservation Agreement. A number of significant Ipswich buildings have deed restrictions that protect specified architectural elements. Most of these agreements are with the Ipswich Historical Commission, but a few are with the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (S.P.N.E.A.) or with the Heritage Trust of the Ipswich Historical Society. This column indicates that fact and the Book and Page at the Essex County Registry of Deeds, or the Certificate Number at the Registry by which the Agreement may be located.
